Agenda item: 6. Executive Committee Candidates

Introduction

Dear CDN,

I am Sabrina Pavlov, a highly motivated young leader and an active member of the network. From my first interaction with CDN two years ago, I felt deeply connected to the organisation's vision and its people. Since then, I have remained constantly involved in the organisation's activities, growing from a participant into an active contributor. This journey has shaped both my personal and professional development and strengthened my belief in CDN's ability to create meaningful change on both individual and international levels. This is why I am running for the Executive Committee - I want to take responsibility for contributing to CDN's growth, helping it reach more young people, and strengthening its role as a strong and influential voice in our region.

MOTIVATION LETTER

Dear delegates of the CDN General Assembly,

Once I stepped into the world of CDN, there was no going back for me. My journey with the organization began two years ago as a participant in Tbilisi and evolved into roles as a prep-team member for the Study Session in Budapest, a GA speaker for the panel discussion, a host prep-team for the Summer Camp in Chișinău, an ElectionVision webinar speaker and a Liaison Officer for Gutta-Club. Each experience has created a ripple effect in my life, drawing me closer to our shared values and the community that upholds them. Since then, CDN became both my mentor and my family. I grew up with it, I contributed to it, and now I am ready to take responsibility for it.

With that said, I wish to express my unwavering motivation to be your representative in CDN's Executive Committee. I strongly believe in CDN and its positive impact on communities, which is something I can proudly vouch for personally, as well as its potential of being a powerful and transformative actor in Eastern Europe. Now it's time for CDN to become even louder, more visible, and more influential beyond our current scope. We absolutely have the needed experience, legitimacy, and the people to do so, but we must strengthen our external voice, partnerships, and strategic presence.

I wish to contribute to this process not only with enthusiasm, but with experience. Through my involvement in event preparation, public speaking, institutional communication, and organisational coordination over the past years, I have gained valuable experience in the operational, strategic, and representative aspects of CDN. I am ready to give my all to support the planning of events, contribute to project development, and strengthen partnerships that position CDN as a confident and credible actor in the region. With my seasoned experience within the network and my engagements externally, I believe I am well-prepared to take on this responsibility and contribute effectively at the Executive level.

At the same time, what makes CDN truly unique is not only what we do, but how we do it. CDN is a safe space, a place where young people can express themselves freely, challenge ideas, and grow without fear. As a member of the Executive Committee, I will be committed to protecting this environment and ensuring that CDN always remains a space defined by trust, respect, and openness. I bring dedication, continuity, and the perspective of someone who has experienced CDN at every level. Now, I am ready to give back to the network that changed me for the better by helping shape its future together with you.

Yours sincerely,
Sabrina PAVLOV

Recommendation Letter

23.02.2026

Dear Members of the CDN General Assembly,

Public Association "Gutta-Club" National Center recommends Sabrina Pavlov for the position of Executive Member of the Cooperation and Development Network Eastern Europe.

Since 2023, Sabrina has been a key member of "Gutta-Club" and our Liaison Officer with CDN. She has ensured stable institutional cooperation with the network, represented our organization in CDN events, and supported the implementation of international activities hosted in partnership with CDN.

Her contribution extends to governance and strategic development. Sabrina has supported the drafting of organizational documents, contributes to partnership coordination, and is part of the working group preparing Erasmus+ applications. She is also a Council member of NECI Moldova, a newly established youth organization under the Gutta-Club umbrella, where she actively contributes to shaping its strategic direction.

Sabrina combines initiative with institutional awareness and accountability. We are confident she possesses the competence and maturity required to contribute effectively to the Executive Committee of CDN.

Gutta-Club fully supports her candidacy.

Respectfully your,
Natalia Kravciuk
President
