Agenda item: 6. Executive Committee Candidates

Introduction

My name is Yuliia and I am the head of the project department and leader of Green Youth of Ukraine in Kyiv region. I want to run for the Executive Committee, because the values of the Greens correlate with mine; and I wish to develop and grow together with activists to expand green ideology in Eastern Europe. During three years of work in Green Youth of Ukraine, I have coordinated summer camps, strategic sessions, youth congresses and volunteer projects. My experience in project management, communication and work with different stakeholders allows me to effectively balance between operational tasks and strategic planning. As an active participant in CDN events since 2023 – from General Assemblies to Green Academy – I understand the internal dynamics of the network and the challenges faced by member organizations. I see CDN as a platform for democratic transformation of Eastern Europe through an ecological lens. My priorities include: ecology, inclusivity, voice of youth and democracy. Thank you.

MOTIVATION LETTER

The information about the opening of the competition for positions on the CDN Executive Committee inspired me to take the next step in my journey in the Green movement. For 3 years I have been actively involved in CDN activities through Green Youth of Ukraine, and now I strive to take this experience to a new level. As a member of the Executive Committee, I aim to contribute not only to the growth of the network, but also to creating an inclusive space where every voice will be heard.

Also, my personal motivation lies in drawing attention to Ukraine, and I can assure you, in the most environmentally friendly way possible.
Taking this opportunity, I want to thank you for the invaluable experience of cooperation, which has contributed to both my personal development and the development of Green Youth of Ukraine and, accordingly, the spread of green ideology on the territory of the country.

During three years of cooperation in Green Youth, I have tried different roles – from participant to speaker, project manager and working group leader. I coordinated event logistics, organized summer camps, strategic sessions, youth congresses and volunteer activities on the ground. This experience taught me to balance between operational management and strategic vision, work with different stakeholders and quickly adapt to changing circumstances – skills that may be important for work in the Executive Committee.

I see CDN as a network that has the potential to become a leading force not only in ecological transformation, but also in the democratic rise of Eastern Europe. My priorities for the development of the organization include: amplifying the voice of youth, drawing attention to inclusivity, highlighting democratic values and promoting green tourism. Of course, over time I would like to focus on more narrow areas, as this will be more practical and appropriate.

For me, membership in the Executive Committee is not only an opportunity to develop CDN, but also a responsibility to the young generation of activists who strive to build a just, democratic and ecologically sustainable future beyond the country's borders as well. I am ready to invest my time, energy and experience to make the network stronger, more inclusive and more influential.
